How can this be?

Due to an unforeseen error (which was actually brought to our attention by one of our fans) both venues had us scheduled for the same day and time!

Those of you who are familiar with the band members know how fortunate we are to have a long list of talented substitute players who will be joining us that evening so therefore we can split the band, have guest musicians fill in and give you TWO COMPLETE BANDS!

Our very talented vocalists will be featured at both locations at alternating times.

We hope to see you at either location for a romantic night of music and dancing!

Questions? Email Holly at holnmik98@sbcglobal.net

There is no performance for the band currently scheduled for February 20th.

See you soon!
